Bio EUTRA

New natural, organic milking grease for cows, goats and sheep

Mastitis is the number 1 problem livestock farmers face!

Mastitis is an inflammation of the udder following a bacterial infection of the teats. It affects 40% of cows in production. The infection can take two forms: subclinical mastitis (the most common case) and clinical mastitis (the most dangerous form for the animal). To limit cases among your livestock, it is important to adopt the right practices, and in particular, to take care of the teats during milking.

New formula made from 100% organic ingredients. Ideal for organic livestock farms!

What does milking grease do?

- + Facilitates manual milking
- + Moisturises and protects the teats
- + Takes care of the teats by creating a protective layer
- + Heals minor wounds
- + Prevents mastitis
- + Protects the farmer's hands

As well as being made from 100% natural ingredients, our new organic milking grease will allow you to take care of your animals' teats. It is suitable for cows, goats and sheep and is very easy to apply. Its formula promotes animal welfare.
